

Automated Communication Consent Form

From time to time, GLDP or its affiliates or partners acting on its behalf may send you communications via telephone, email, or SMS/text¹ message concerning your account, such as billing reminders and invoices, and relevant promotions, such as special offers, services, and other marketing communications.

GLDP or its affiliates or partners acting on its behalf may also send you communications via automated means, including:

- automatic dialing or texting systems,
- pre-recorded or artificial voice, or
- ringless voicemails.

Your agreement to receive communications via automated means is not required to book an appointment or to use GLDP's services, and you may opt out of these communications at any time by following the instructions contained in the communications. We will honor your opt out request within 30 days. Even if you opt-out of receiving communications via automated means, we may still contact you with important health updates, such as appointment reminders and past-due checkups

By providing your signature below, you acknowledge that you received this form, fully understand our policies, and agree to receive communications from GLDP or its affiliates via automated means.
